President's Report & Memberships

Beste Medelanders, I am happy to say that we had a good and pleasant AGM on 17 September. If you couldn't make it to the meeting, you will find the President's Report included in this issue of the Neerlandia magazine.

On a lighter note, 2017 was probably the first time in Neerlandia's history, that a President's Report presentation was interrupted by the President's 4 year old son, telling Daddy that he needed to go to the toilet. This AGM was attended by more younger Members and their children than many Members can remember.

The preparation of an AGM always takes a lot of effort and time of the Committee.

Now that Lianna Parker has stepped down. I am delighted to welcome Erik Loose as our new Vice-President.

I am looking forward to working closely together with Erik and in times to come, you will get to know Erik as an engaged Committee Member, with a focus on our Club's future.

During the 2017 AGM, Neerlandia Members present voted for Lianna Parker to receive a Life Membership. Lianna was rewarded this honour for her relentless (and sometimes unpopular) efforts to guarantee Neerlandia to survive our turbulent financial times.

On behalf of the Committee, I wish Lianna all the best and I cannot thank her enough for her efforts in bringing Neerlandia to where it is today.

When you read this report, it will be October and we can all look forward to our Christmas Lunch scheduled for Sunday the 19th of November.

Enjoy the read,

Eric van Waaijenburg, President.

Vegetarian Lasagna.

Lately we have had a vegetarian amongst our guests. However, this very tasty dish will also satisfy others. Additional vegetables, such as cubed eggplant, zucchini and roasted cubes of pumpkin can be included. However, do not exceed about a liter of the vegetable mixture.

Ingredients:

- Knob of butter, for greasing and frying
- 1 can lentils
- 1 vegetable stock cube or chicken cube for non-vegetarians
- 1 tablespoon olive oil, for frying
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 garlic clove, chopped
- 100 gr mushrooms, sliced
- 100 gr leek, finely sliced
- 1 carrot, grated
- 1 x 400 gr can of chopped tomatoes
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 9 sheets instant Lasagna
- A handful grated Parmesan (or vegetarian alternative)

Cheese Sauce:

- 110 gr butter
- 85 gr plain flour
- 1 liter milk
- 150 gr grated low fat tasty cheddar
- Pinch of grated nutmeg
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste

Method:

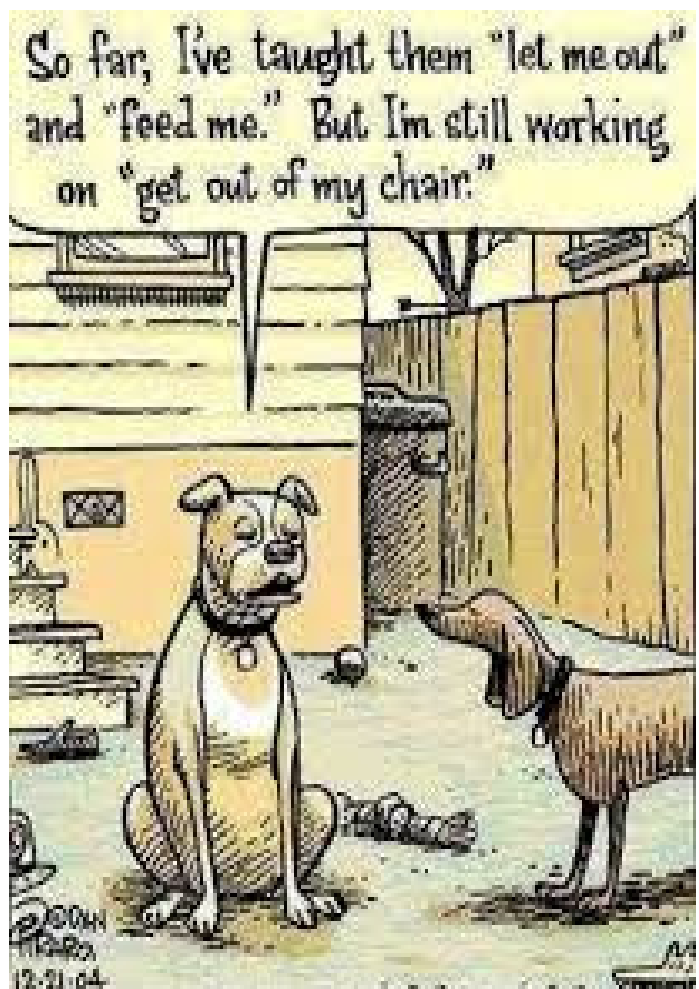

1. Preheat the oven to 180C. Generously grease a baking dish with butter.
 2. Heat the olive oil and butter in a frying pan (with lid) over a medium heat. Add the onion, garlic, mushrooms, grated carrot and leek and fry for about five minutes, or until softened.
 3. Stir in the cooked lentils and simmer gently for five minutes, then stir in the tomatoes and vegetable stock cube. Cover with lid and simmer on a low heat for 10-15 minutes. Season, to taste, with sea salt and freshly ground black pepper.
 4. Meanwhile, for the cheese sauce, melt the butter in a medium saucepan over a medium-high heat, then mix in the flour and stir until bubbling. Gradually add the milk, whisking constantly, until the mixture is smooth.
 5. Simmer gently, stirring constantly, until the sauce starts to thicken, then stir in the cheese and season with salt, freshly ground black pepper and nutmeg and remove from heat.
- To assemble the lasagna, spread a quarter of the vegetable mixture all over the base of the greased baking dish, cover this with a quarter of the cheese sauce, then arrange a third of the lasagna sheets over the top. Repeat three more times and finish with the last quarter of cheese sauce. Sprinkle over the Parmesan cheese and bake in the oven for 30-40 minutes, or until bubbling and golden-brown.

Note: You can make the vegetable mixture and the cheese sauce before, but do not combine the ingredients till just before you want to put the dish in the oven. In that case you have to warm the cheese sauce.

Leiden's Ontzet. (Relief)

The city of Leiden was besieged from 1573 until 1574, when it was finally relieved. Leiden's Relief (Leiden's Ontzet) is celebrated annually in order to commemorate the siege, which took place during the Eighty Years' War and the relief of the city on October 3, 1574.

Initially the Leiden City Council remained loyal to the Sovereign Lord King Philip II of Spain, but in June 1572, the City choose to be loyal to Prince William of Orange.

In an attempt to regain power over the City, the Spanish starved the inhabitants of Leiden in order to force them to surrender. The City Council remained unmoved and would not even consider surrendering to the Spanish oppressor.

The "(water) Geuzen" pierced the dikes at Rotterdam and Capelle aan de IJssel in September 1574, in order to flood the polder lands.

It took, however, two more months before rains and storms made the waters accumulate in the area around Leiden. That water allowed the "Geuzen", protestants fighting the Spanish king, Philip II, to reach Leiden and threaten the Spaniards.

Then in the night of 2-3 October, the Spanish besiegers withdrew, threatened both by the water and by the Geuzen. Leiden had been relieved.

The population had suffered great hardships. During the siege one third of the population had died, and the rest was dangerously close to starvation.

Fortunately, the Geuzen had brought white bread and herring, and in the deserted Spanish positions, an enormous kettle with Hotch-Potch (hutspot) was found. Thus a tradition was born. Ever since that day, 3 October 1574, Leiden celebrates its relief with Hotch-Potch and herring with white bread. Many people who work in Leiden get or take the day off. The celebration has developed into a huge popular festival, with a fair, parades and markets, which are visited by hundreds of thousands of people.

Insurance.

When you first move to a foreign country, there are literally a jillion things you need to arrange. It's no surprise, that many of my first days in the lowlands were spent at the aptly named "Alien's Police", completing endless red-tape. I felt like an alien; there was the thrill of all things new and exciting, yet even the simplest tasks were confusing and utterly foreign.

On my list of things to arrange was insurance – and boy, was I in for a treat! I sat across a pimply banker who handed me a tattered laminated folder, of what appeared to be, hundreds of different types of insurance policies. After struggling through the list, I looked up and asked him what I really needed. He mumbled a few things about not being allowed to give personal advice and then pointed to one entry entitled "personal liability insurance".

"You definitely need this one!" he blurted out, almost excitedly: "The Dutch ALL have this one!"

I asked what it was actually for and he launched into a long and dull explanation of coverage for damage or harm to a person or property. Failing to understand exactly why this was of critical importance to all Dutch people, I asked for an example.

He was prepared for the question and got right to it: "Imagine you are at a friend's house for dinner tonight and you spill red wine on their white carpet! Instead of you having to pay for a new carpet, your insurance company will!"

Stuff Dutch People Like & Ditjes and Datjes

Back at the office, I decided to broach the subject with a few of my Dutch colleagues. Sure enough, they ALL had the infamous “personal liability insurance”. Before I even had a chance to ask more, one of my older female colleagues chimed in: “Colleen, what would you do if you spilt red wine on a friend’s white couch? Now where would that leave you? How silly not to have insurance for that!”

Based on the morning’s conversations I could only help but assume three things:

- The Dutch were very clumsy wine drinkers.
- White carpets and couches seemed to be very popular in the Netherlands.
- Dutch people apparently charged other Dutch people for damages incurred at dinner parties.

The above didn’t necessarily leave me eager in anticipation for a Dutch dinner party (...I couldn’t imagine a scenario in my home country, where we would suddenly swap bank account or insurance policy numbers over spilt wine).

Clearly I had a thing or two to learn about the Dutch; for it turns out they do simply LOVE insurance! In fact, they love it so much, they are the second highest consumers of insurance in the ENTIRE WORLD! Yes, this tiny nation of freakishly tall folk, are only second to Switzerland in their national obsession with all things insurance.

With this unsettling obsession you would be safe to assume the Dutch are a rather pessimistic and fearful bunch. However, this peculiar behaviour isn’t based on fear, but rather a pragmatic mentality, coupled with a healthy dose of herd mentality. As my pre-pubescent banker alluded to, the “everyone-else-is-doing-it” sales-pitch was apparently quite convincing.

Can there be a point when a nation is too cautious or overly prepared for impending disasters? You betcha! In 2012 the Dutch National Consumer Bureau announced, that far too many Dutch people were over-insured. Many a Dutchie was double or triple insured. The spokesman of the Consumer Bureau, some even having completely irrelevant insurance policies, went as far to say in an interview, that purchasing insurance seemed now to be a “national hobby”.

I think it’s fair to say it’s time for a new past-time! One that’s perhaps a tad more upbeat? Let’s show the world the Dutch aren’t as paranoid as they look.

PS: I eventually caved into the peer pressure and bought my “spilt-red-wine-insurance”, but I am happy to report that I haven’t had to use it yet!

On September 26, Duyfken will be on the move from her winter home in Fremantle to her new summer base at the South of Perth Yacht Club at Coffee Point in Applecross. It's a big move requiring the masts to be lifted and layed on the deck, before Duyfken motors upriver to her base where the masts will be re-stepped and the rig re-attached.

Our Twilight Sailing program will then commence on Saturday October 14, with sailings scheduled through until the end of March on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, departing the yacht club at 4pm.

Tickets are available at www.duyfken.com/sailing or on the Ticketek website .

The link is <http://premier.ticketek.com.au/shows/show.aspx?sh=DUYFEXHI17>

So if you have family or friends over from the Netherlands, what is a better way to spend it on a lovely sail on the Swan river with food and drinks. Our Duyfken guides will tell you interesting history from the Swan river and all facts from the early days from the Aboriginals and the arrivals from Vlamingh and Stirling and other interesting facts.

Presentation of Life Membership to Lianna Parker by Eric van Waaijenburg, our President.

Neerlandia Annual General Meeting.

The Neerlandia AGM was held on Sunday the 17th of September at 3.00pm.

There were 45 Members, present which was a satisfactory turn-up. Eagerly anticipated by the Members was the release of the Financial Report, showing all the details about the sale of the former Clubhouse in Wembley.

However, there were very few questions asked.

The big surprise was the retirement of former President Lianna Parker, who was rewarded for her dedicated work during a difficult Neerlandia period with a Life Membership. Well earned!!

The meeting ran like clockwork and was all over in about one hour.

The way the meeting was held proved without a doubt that the next generation has arrived and the future of Neerlandia is in good, capable hands. (On the next page please find an abbreviated version of the President's address at the AGM. For the full address, please contact me by e-mail, your Editor Piet Leeftang.)

Neerlandia AGM - President's Report

Good Afternoon Ladies and Gentlemen, thank you for attending today's 48th Annual General Meeting of Dutch Society Neerlandia. Let's look back at the past year and see how we have fared.

Over the past year we have seen Membership decrease from 352 in September 2016 to 347 in 2017. We have lost Members due to natural causes and although we welcomed 31 new Members so far in 2017, this number was smaller than the number of Members that we lost.

However, this trend is not surprising, in fact, the Committee foresaw this trend a long time ago.

The traditional Members are growing older and the younger Dutch, although they enjoy coming to the Dutch Club and meeting each other, are less inclined to become a committed Member of our Club.

Interestingly though, the events that Neerlandia organised over the past 12 months for the younger families, have been very well attended and appeared to be a success, especially the Children's Disco and the Ice Skating afternoon. The Electronics' Club, where Members and guests work on developing their own software, has proven to be a well-chosen event, where old and young get together.

The younger Committee Members, who are looking after the Neerlandia Juniors' Club are learning better to understand what events pull the younger families to our Club, an understanding that the Committee continues to develop. At the same time the Committee also realises that there will always be a significant difference of expectations and social circumstances between the traditional Neerlandia Members and the current, new and future Members. And for that reason the Committee expects that over the years to come we will see a continuous decrease in Membership, with an expected stabilisation of around 200.

The Committee's expectations are not only based on common sense, but also on the Membership database that over the past six years has been diligently updated by Kaye Wegman. Kaye recently advised the Committee that she will retire from her Membership responsibility by the end of this year, a decision that the Committee regrets but fully supports.

I would like, on behalf of the Members in general and on behalf of the Committee in particular, thank Kaye Wegman for her tireless efforts and her punctuality, and also for her analytical advice, which the Committee always enjoyed listening to.

Kaye, thank you very much and we wish you all the best and enjoyment with your new interests.

Let's move on to our Sponsorship Programme, which is so closely connected to Membership.

Our Members have since the sale of our Clubhouse been enjoying this Sponsorship Programme. A programme developed by the Committee as a way of thanking the Members for believing in their Club, also during the financial hardship years, when only a frugal financial regime could get us over the threshold.

You stuck with us and after the Clubhouse at Cambridge was sold, we wanted to use 2017 to express our appreciation of your loyalty to Dutch Society Neerlandia.

In the new year Neerlandia will continue to look after its Members and to make the Members benefit from Club life. Yet, as it is the Committee's duty to look ahead it is our intention to adjust the Sponsorship Programme next year.

With a solid and thought through financial strategy we may, in the not too distant future, be in a position whereby we can buy or build our own Clubhouse again.

However, if this is to occur, the dynamics of such a Clubhouse would be totally different to the one that most of you know from Cambridge Street and a new Clubhouse could only be realised, based on a big enough Membership base and a watertight business plan, that would generate a variety of income for the Club.

A stable Membership base and a healthy financial position are the Committee's continuous focus for the future of Neerlandia. To achieve this healthy financial position and a sustainable Membership base, the Committee is working on a new category of Club Membership: the Family Membership.

Meanwhile those of you who frequent the RDC Clubhouse had to walk around the renovation of the old house. The Committee realises that it is not always easy and we apologise for the inconvenience. However, neither the Rhein Donau Club, nor Neerlandia, could foresee the implications of this essential renovation.

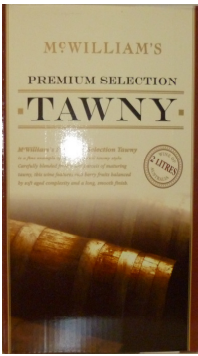

A bit further on in this meeting you will be introduced to the new Neerlandia Committee, a Committee without Lianna Parker. You are all aware that Lianna is retiring from the Committee after eight years working tirelessly for the Club. And for me personally Lianna has been (and still is) a great teacher, a rock for me to go to for support and her intimate knowledge of all Club affairs is unprecedented.

However, although less involved with the day to day running of the club, Lianna has committed herself to working on the new Neerlandia Constitution and she has also offered assistance with Committee work if and when necessary – for this we thank her kindly.

I hope and I trust that my report has given you an insight in the current and future plans of the Committee for the Club and its Members.

Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you all for your attendance and I wish you and Neerlandia a Happy and Healthy New Year.

B I N G O B U L L E T I N.

From your friendly Bingo Organiser.

The Bingo Game is designed to bring people together, to enjoy each other's company, having a lot of laughs and fun and in the process win some good prizes as a bonus.

And that is exactly what is happening at our Bingo Games. More members are coming to our Bingo Games and the expectation is that there will be over 20 players attending soon.

This means that every time 15 players are present, ONE WILL PLAY FOR FREE. If there are 16 players, the JACKPOT will increase a further $10.

Last Wednesday, 6th September, John Norder was the lucky one who played for free.

At the last Game the basic Jackpot rose to $105 while the full house game of the day was an additional $15, which meant that the Jackpot stood at a whopping $120 and the ball call for the Jackpot to be won stood at 66. Guess what, it did NOT go off !!!!

That makes the next Games even more exciting, as the Jackpot will keep increasing in size! ! !

Of course you want to be part of this. Someone is going to win this. WHO?—YOU ?

Sunday Klaverjas Drives

September Sunday Klaverjas Drive Results.

The September Sunday Drive was held on the 2nd Sunday of the month instead of the 1st, as that was Father's Day. This may have caused the non-attendance of some of our more regular players. We only had 20 players and 2 non-playing Members but none-the-less, it turned out to be a successful event. The big surpr[ise] was that Bill Spanbroek won the first prize twice in a row.

The winners of this competition were:

1st Prize: Bill Spanbroek 6810 points

2nd Prize: Jo Smit 6790 points

3rd Prize: Joost de Haan 6717 points

Congratulations to the winners and hopefully we may see some ladies' names in the Sunday drives to follow. Unfortunately, October is out on account of the RDC's October fest. Therefore, we will only have two more card drives this year in November and December. Let us make the most of it.

An announcement was made, that the Committee would consider to place a time limit on the completion of our Sunday drives. It has now been decided that play will start at 11am sharp, lunch will be taken around 12.30pm for half an hour and the games are to finish at 2.30pm. If a table is not finished by that time, the controller in charge will use his or her discretion in allowing the particular table some extra time or to stop play there and then. Now for some great news.

The Committee of Neerlandia has sponsored the Sunday Drive, (a Sub-Club of the Klaverjas Club), during this year.

We would like to thank them for their financial contribution and as a result we find ourselves now for the first time since moving into the RDC in a positive, financial situation.

Your Committee has discussed this position and as a result, we have now decided to increase the prize money for the remaining two Sunday Drives in November and December. We hope that this may influence not only our regular Members to continue to support us but also to entice some new Members to join us. I think we all agree that our present prizes of $20, $15 and $10 are very miserly indeed.

For November and December, the Prizes will be:

1st prize $75

2nd prize $60

3rd prize $45.

If this does not bring in the crowd, what will?

In addition, all regular Members, who took part in our Sunday Drives on at least 6 occasions, may expect a small Christmas present at our December Sunday Drive.

Looking forward to an exceptional turn up for November and December.

Cheers, Murray Koedyk.

Sunday Klaverjas Drive News.

Thursday Night Klaverjas Club & Members Birthdays

Results of Card Competitions.

Our 2nd competition for this year came to an end on the 24th August and the following week, our score master, Piet Segers, announced the winners and handed out the prizes.

The Bolivia players were happy to continue their prize allocation on a rotating basis and this time it was the turn of Matty Mentz and Toon Kamps, who each received a prize of $15.

The Klaverjas prize winners were as follows:

1st prize of $20: Murray Koedyk with a score of 71395 points.

2nd prize of $15: Frieda Hovingh with a score of 70692 points.

Marsen prize of $10: Piet Leeftang with 29 marsen.

Average prize of $5: Joost den Haan with 66865 points, he was the closest to the average score, which was 66689 points.

Half way during this competition, we learned that Mrs. Helena Kleyne had the misfortune of being involved in a "hit and run" car accident. Someone was driving a stolen vehicle, trying to get away from the police. Of course, as usual in those cases, she came off 2nd best.

Our Members of the Thursday Card Club wish her a speedy recovery and we hope to see her back very soon.

Towards the end of this competition, we welcomed Ivy Chisholm as a new Member for our Bolivia players and we wish her continued happiness in her chosen game.

We are always looking for new Members, who would like to join us in playing Klaverjas or Bolivia on Thursday evenings at 7.00 pm.

We congratulate all the winners of the 2nd competition and we wish all our players success in our last upcoming competition for the year.

The Neerlandia Sponsored Lunch for the Players of the Thursday Night Card Club, will take place on Tuesday the 17th of October from 11.30am onwards.

The Pines Restaurant in Bentley has been booked for 21-23 players (to be confirmed) and it should be a fantastic event.

A Biker & God.

A man on his Harley was riding along a Victorian Beach Road, when suddenly the sky clouded above his head and in a booming voice, God said:

"Because you have tried to be very faithful to me in many ways, I will grant you one wish."

The Biker pulled over and said: "Build a bridge to Tasmania, so I can ride over anytime I want."

God replied: "Your request is materialistic; think of the enormous challenges for that kind of undertaking; the supports required to reach the bottom of the Bass Strait and the concrete and steel it would take! I can do it, but it is hard for me to justify your desire for worldly things.

Take a little more time and think of something that could possibly help mankind."

The Biker thought about it for a long time. Finally, he said: "God, I wish that I, and all men, could understand women. I want to know how she feels inside, what she's thinking, when she gives me the silent treatment, why she cries, what she means when she says: "there is nothing wrong", why she snaps and complains when I try to help and how I can make a woman truly happy."

God replied: "You want two lanes or four on that bridge?"

Head of the Household.

When everyone on earth was dead and waiting to enter Paradise, God appeared and said: "I want the men to make two lines. One line for the men who were true heads of their household, and the other line for the men who were dominated by their women. And I want all the women to report direct to St. Peter." Soon, the women were gone and there were two lines of men. The line of the men, who were dominated by their wives, was 100 miles long and in the line of men who truly were heads of their household, there was only one man.

God said to the long line: "You men should be ashamed of yourselves, I created you to be the head of your household! You have been disobedient and have not fulfilled your purpose! Of all of you, only one obeyed. Learn from him".

God turned to the one man: "How did you manage to be the only one in this line?"

The man replied: "My wife told me to stand here".

Trucker's Breakfast.

A trucker came into a Truck Stop Cafe' and placed his order.

He said: "I want three flat tires, a pair of headlights and a pair of running boards."

The brand new blonde waitress, not wanting to appear stupid, went to the kitchen and said to the cook: "This guy out there just ordered three flat tires, a pair of headlights and a pair of running boards. What does he think this place is, an auto parts store?"

'No, the cook said: 'Three flat tyres mean three pancakes; a pair of headlights is two eggs sunny side up; and a pair of running boards are two slices of crisp bacon!'

'Oh, OK!' said the blonde.

She thought about it for a moment and then spooned up a bowl of baked beans and gave it to the customer.

The trucker asked: 'What are the beans for, Blondie?'

She replied: 'I thought while you were waiting for the flat tires, headlights and running boards, you might as well gas up!'

Aussie Husbands are good Blokes!

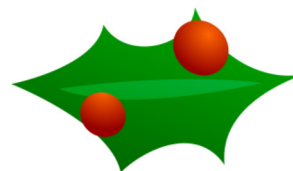

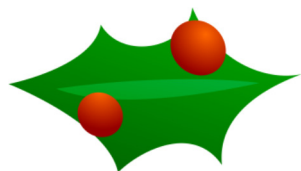

Look after your wife.

A couple of weeks ago, I was sitting on the patio, drinking beer and watching my wife mow the lawn. Cheryl from next door saw us and was so upset, that she came over and yelled at me: "You lazy sod! Sitting there drinking beer while your poor wife pushes that ancient lawn mower around! Get up off your fat behind and give her a break!" I took another swig from my stubby, wiped the cold foam from my lips, lifted my Bunnies, stared directly at this nosey cow and told her in no uncertain terms, to sod off and mind her own business. I told her my wife had green fingers and that she really enjoyed gardening. After a few days I felt really bad, so I went out and bought her a ride-on mower, to show my sensitive side. I'm really proud of the deal I got and also very proud that my wife can now sit down, while mowing the lawn. Yes, guys, we should take good care of our wives. Then maybe they'll take good care of us.

The Old City of Oudewater

Flag and Coat of Arms of OUDEWATER.

Oudewater is a Municipality and a City in the Province of Utrecht.

Oudewater is located in the Southwest of Utrecht, close to its border with South Holland and it was of great strategic importance in the Middle Ages. It is situated where the Linschoten river flows into the Hollandse IJssel.

The Municipality of Oudewater consists of the following Cities, Towns, Villages and/or Districts: Hekendorp, Oudewater, Papekop and Snelrewaard.

Oudewater has a protected, historical City Center, with more than 250 protected houses.

Historic Houses.

History:

The origin of the Town of Oudewater is obscure and no information has been found concerning the first settlement of citizens. It is also difficult to retrace the name of Oudewater. One explanation is that the name is a corruption of the old word water-meadow. The Town was granted City rights in 1265 by Hendrik van Vianden, the Bishop of Utrecht.

Oudewater took its place in the First Free States council in Dordrecht on 19 July 1572. Oudewater was one of the twelve Cities taking part in the first free convention of the States General in Dordrecht. This was a meeting that laid down the origin of the State of the Netherlands, as we now know it, under the leadership of the House of Orange.

This happened at the beginning of the Eighty Years' War, (1568–1648) when the Netherlands were still part of the Spanish Empire. The City of Oudewater was conquered by the Spanish on 7 August 1575 and most of its inhabitants were killed, including the family of famous Oudewater native and Protestant theologian Jacobus Arminius (1560–1609).

In the 16th and 17th century, Oudewater was an important producer of rope. In the surrounding area, hemp was cultivated. There is still a rope manufacturing plant and a Rope Museum in the City.

The Rope Museum.

Skating in Oudewater is only possible these days during severe winters.

The Weigh House.

The Weigh House:

Oudewater is famous for the Heksenwaag (Witches' scales). This Weigh House, an official Town building, became famous during the 16th century, because people accused of witchcraft were offered an honest chance of proving their innocence. In many Cities and Countries such trials were usually rigged, resulting in the burning or drowning of hundreds of innocent people. Many people accused of witchcraft from all over Europe (or at least, those who could afford the trip) made a head-over-heels trip to Oudewater to avoid being burned at the stake.

After the official weigh-ins, they received an official certificate proclaiming them not to be a witch. Although nobody was ever found to be an actual witch in Oudewater, the weigh-ins were still a public spectacle.

Even today you can get a certificate that "your body weight is in proportion to your build."

The reasoning behind this is the old belief, that a witch has no soul and therefore weighs significantly less than an ordinary person; this distinction allows the witch to fly on a broomstick. The Waag is still open as a tourist attraction, and official certificates are still available. The Town hall dates from 1588 and features a stork's nest. The church, now Protestant, dates from the 15th century. Its tower is from about 1300.

CODEBREAKER PUZZLE

A Codebreaker is a crossword puzzle with no clues! Every letter of the alphabet has been replaced by a number.

For this puzzle only the first three letters are revealed. Start with entering these letters throughout the puzzle first and then start guessing your first word or letter. Use a pencil to start, then if it does not work out, you can erase and start again. Some letters, e.g. the letter E occurs much more often than others e.g. the letters X or Z.

The last Codebreaker was not to bad, once you found the words: Idiom, Domain and Majordomo, you were well on the way to solve it. The letter code solution for last month's Codebreaker was as follows:

A=20; B=6; C=21; D=23; E=22; F=1; G=16; H=9; I=12; J=24; K=14; L=11; M=19; N=13; O=15; P=18; Q=2; R=5; S=7; T=17; U=8; V=10; W=25; X=4; Y=3; Z=26.
